1984 will be remembered by the Cycle Trade as the year that Mountain Bikes exploded onto the U.K. market. One company almost solely responsible for their successful introduction is Muddy Fox - The Mountain Bike People.

1984

Intelligent advertising and promotion all designed to help the most important and vital link in the chain - The Trader, has within one season established Mountain Bikes as a profitable market and Muddy Fox as the leaders in the field "leaving the pack behind". To reprint all the publicity and articles about Muddy Fox and Mountain Bikes would require a hefty book. The snippets below will however give you an idea of the coverage and enthusiastic welcome given to Muddy Fox by the press within the last few months.

"Muddy Fox have already established themselves at the forefront of the road scene with quality components and first class bikes"
Bicycle Magazine

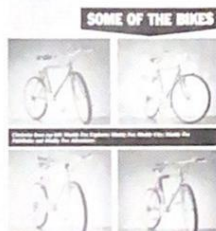

BTT "A complete range of bikes available for the dealer"

Cycle Trader "At the vanguard of the ATB revolution"

"The largest range of Mountain Bikes in Europe"

"It is now up to the dealer to cash in on the gains that Muddy Fox have made and stock mountain bikes to their advantage."

Cycle Trader

Bicycle Times "It seems there is nothing the Bike is not capable of."
 "The only limiting factor was our own nerve."
 "Under all circumstances failed to find fault with the bike"

Chosen to follow "in the footsteps of Scott" South Pole Expedition 1984-86
 The first bikes to ever set tyre on the Antarctic Icecap.

TEST REPORT

INTRODUCTION: The Muddy Fox Pathfinder is a 18-speed mountain bike. It features a lightweight frame, a full suspension system, and a wide range of gears. The bike is designed for off-road riding and is known for its reliability and performance.

Bicycle Magazine "A very good ride" "most comfortable"

Bicycle Action "the Pathfinders really do show their class in everything you ask them to do"

Muddy Fox Limited Edition

Bicycle Action "One thousand pounds worth of mountain bike"
"Beautifully made""Lovely"

Cycle and Motorcycle Trade Monthly "A superb piece of engineering"

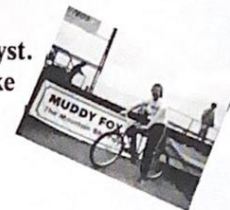

Mountain Bikes would never have taken off so quickly without some form of catalyst. Muddy Fox provided that shot in the arm by sponsoring every major mountain bike event in the U.K.:

May 27th - The London Mountain Bike Spectacular

Bicycle "competitors and spectators alike thoroughly enjoyed the day's activities"
"The availability of sponsor's bikes (Muddy Foxes) was a very popular feature"
"Worthy of mention were - Muddy Fox - who not only supplied bikes but even entered two members into the races."
The Muddy Fox Team won the Team Relay Event

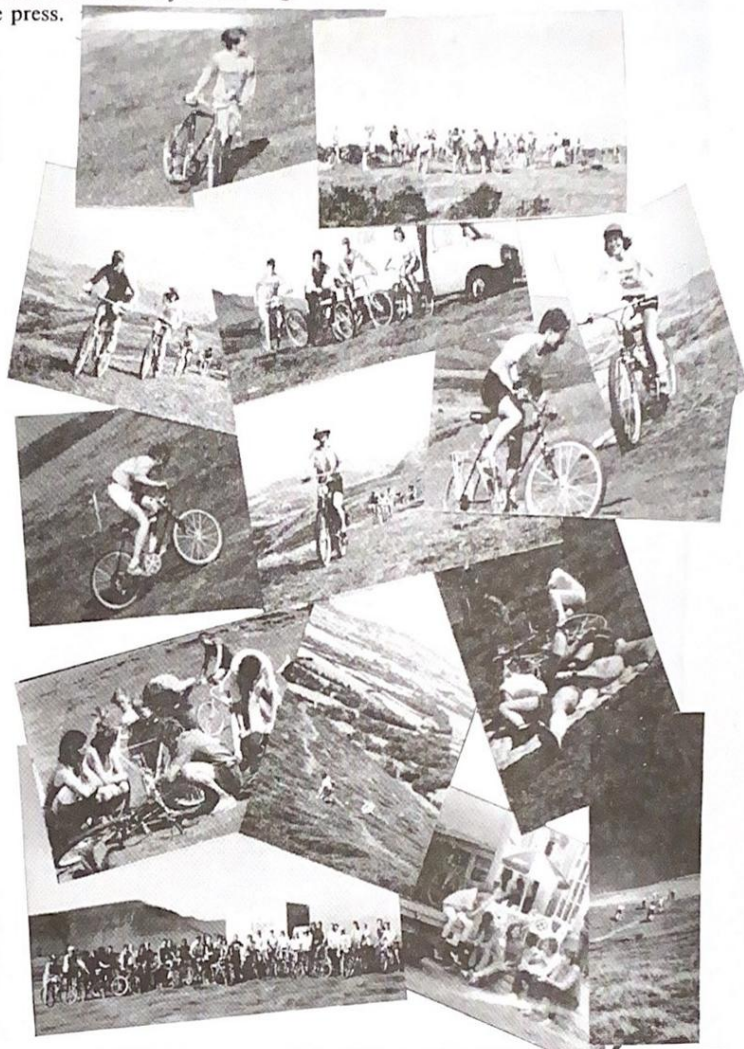

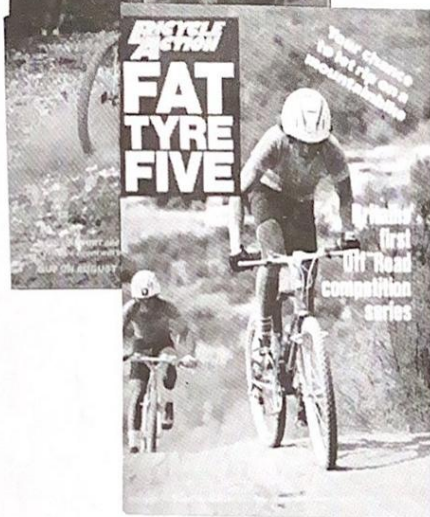

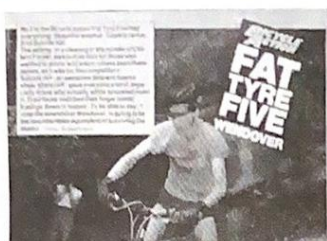

Bicycle Action "thanks to support from Muddy Fox there were bikes available to try.
Many of the competitors had never ridden one before. They all swore they certainly would again."

Yet to be reviewed.....

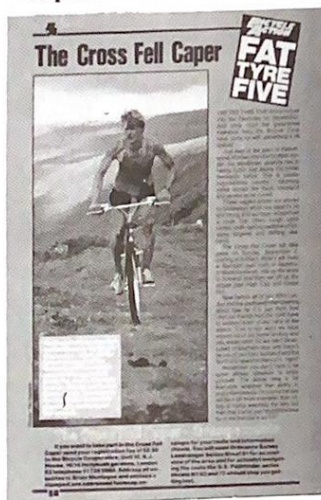

July 28th/29th - Wales Hay Bluff Cross Country Ride

A great success - The first two-day mountain bike ride and everyone had a great time. Looking forward to the reviews to come in the press.

Still to come.....

BIGFOOT

The Junior Mountain Bike

in the Beginning...

It's almost ten years since the pioneers of Mountain Bikes first tried combining derailleur gears with the old beach cruiser bikes. They immediately realised they had hit upon something special but were frustrated by the limitations of the components.

They began to improvise, improve and redesign the entire bikes from the ground up. It was then that Mountain Bikes were born.

The surge of interest, enthusiasm and demands for better parts soon attracted the enterprising component manufacturers - the Japanese. The marriage of the American ideas and enthusiasm with the technological wizardry of the Japanese manufacturers such as Araya, Suntour, Tange, Dia Compe, Sugino, Shimano, KKT etc. produced today's State-of-the-Art Mountain Bikes:- MUDDY FOX

MUDDY FOX-The Mountain Bike People have research and development teams in California, Osaka and London designing and anticipating the next developments in this rapidly expanding sport. That's how MUDDY FOX stay one step ahead to be able to offer to you now the bikes that others will try to immitate tomorrow.

MUDDY FOX

BIGFOOT The Missing Link

The Call of the Wild - you know the feeling - when the spirit of restlessness rises within you, howling to be let loose. When you need to get out, to run, to leave the pack behind - The BIGFOOT feeling.

Journey into the unknown on the back of this powerful beast, stalking the city streets, leaping the kerbs, flying swiftly out of town into wild and unexplored land.

Let your imagination soar and your only master be your instincts.

Enlarge Your Territory on BIGFOOT-

A unique and rare breed.

What the Press say:

'most impressive specs'
'I want to steal this bike'
'it's different' 'It's new'
'It's easy to ride and the gears are nice.'

'the wheels are a good size'
'Whistles are no problem'
'Yes I'd like to nick it'
'use it for cruising about the streets' 'I think my mum would nick it' 'It's got everything you see on a mountain bike.'

'I'd say this Bigfoot is real good value.'

MUDDY FOX

MUDDY CITY

The City Mountain Bike

Through a process of natural selection the MUDDY CITY has evolved to become the perfect bike for today's city riders - Combining the technology and developments of today with traditional common sense and a desire for comfort.

The wide handlebars ensure stability at even the slowest speeds e.g. approaching traffic lights - yet narrow enough to ensure access through the tight gaps. The comfortable upright position ensures you won't step off the bike feeling like the Hunchback of Notre Dame.

Comfort is also governed by the cushioning effect of the balloon tyres enabling you to float over bumps, kerbs and potholes that would have jarred your bones before. The centre ridge of the tread however gives less resistance when on firm ground. Leave that rat-race behind!

You'll find the six speed gears will flatten mountains at the flick of a thumb-Remember when gear shifters were in the most awkward spot possible? Well the MUDDY CITY has its positioned right where your thumb will be so you can keep your eyes on the road. And so others on the road can see you-you'll have the latest in wide-angle reflectors complying with British Standards.

Let's face it, in this country it rains so we've included light alloy mudguards to keep the rain off your back and to take the load off it you'll have the strong

MUDDY FOX

Quality you have the right to expect light alloy luggage rack. The light alloy changeguard will keep your trousers clean. Oh and you will find the strong light alloy kick-stand a great bonus.

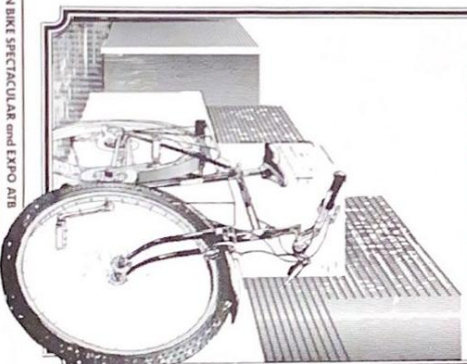

The frame employs the technology of Mountain Bike developments comprising of chrome-moly-a tough, strong yet light alloy. In fact you'll be pleasantly surprised to discover how light the MUDDY CITY is - 31 1/2 lbs!

The rims are of an alloy originally designed to cope with the bone-shattering knocks the BMX boys dish out.

The MUDDY CITY will take anything you can! It's not only tough, light and practical - it looks good - check the finish.

MUDDY CITY

The Natural selection.

Pathfinder

What the Press say

Finish 'good with brazings for all cables, cantilever brakes and rear rack'

Angles 'the gentle angles and fork rake needed to make riding over rocks tolerable'

Feel 'felt better off the road... not dead on tarmac, a very good ride'

Frame Ends 'fitted with adjuster screws'

Ratios 'get you up most mountains ... the even 46/36/28 ratio gives a more blended gear range.'

Sealed Bottom Brackets 'are a must in wet conditions'

Long Cranks 'for even easier hill climbing'

Pedals 'KKT were superior'

Gears 'changed smoothly ... possible to change gear easily while climbing rough terrain'

Saddle 'The Kashimax Voco.. the most comfortable'

Wheels 'sealed hubs, stainless spokes and alloy rims. Arrives with wheels true and well tensioned.. after the test the wheels were still true'

Tyres 'gripped well'

Handlebars 'The best set, integral chrome-moly giving strength and preventing twisting of the bars in the stem. The forward extension was also longer and made out of the saddle riding much more comfortable.'

Q/R seat clamp 'worked smoothly'

Headset 'a sealed bearing headset - a definite plus on an ATB (Mountain Bike)'

Padding 'It also has padding around the frame which was useful both as a shoulder pad when carrying the bike and to stop a painful knock when dismounting quickly on rough ground'

'Bicycle Magazine'

'This is a stylish machine'

'Cyclist Monthly'

Well that seems to cover most points but we'll let Bicycle Action sum it all up - 'The Pathfinders really do show their class in everything you ask them to do.'

MUDDY FOX EXPLORER

The Mountain Bike People

Bred for the trails of California by MUDDY FOX-The Mountain Bike People-This masterpiece of engineering, design and comfort will boldly go where no bike has gone before.

Capable of withstanding the toughest knocks that you can give it or a smooth ride across town. - in fact if you can take it, the EXPLORER can.

This bike is probably the best buy available for a bike of this high standard. But don't take our word for it -

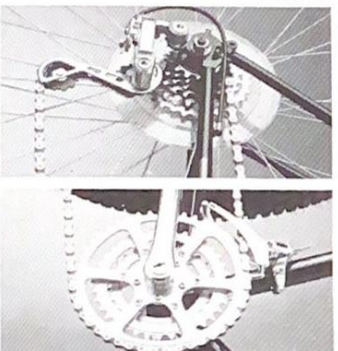

What the Press say:

'A genuine off road capability when the going got rough'

'Apart from looking great was remarkably light and lively'

'Great Value for Money'

Bicycle Action

'The only limiting factor was our own nerve'

'lightweight frame, excellent wheels, and class SHIMANO parts make the MUDDY FOX EXPLORER a good mount and a good looker'

'We tested the MUDDY FOX EXPLORER over some of the harshest terrain in the Scottish Borders, on forest tracks, sheep tracks, footpaths and peat bogs and under all circumstances failed to find fault with the bike.'

'It seems there is nothing which the bike is not capable of'
