Team Wheeler

For generations, steel has been the material of choice for professional cyclists, enthusiasts and frame builders, and with good reasons: Steel frames offer unparalleled responsiveness, durability and workability w/c other materials try hard to emulate. At Wheeler, we use Optima Cr-Mo steel tubes for our steel bikes. By adding chromium for hardness, strength and elasticity & molybdenum, a hardening agent used for rockets and missile parts, welded to the highest standards of quality & precision, we have successfully combined the classic ride & elegance of steel with the benefits of modern manufacturing & metallurgical technology to produce bikes that perfectly balances strength, performance and quality.
